Return to the Workplace Poll Results

Coronavirus is impacting businesses at an unprecedented level and speed, catapulting companies to adjust to ever changing circumstances and uncertainty. Most have lowered revenue projections, accelerated layoffs and cut other expenses.

We polled our CFO community as we believe exchanging best practices, war stories, and potential solutions will inure to the benefit of CFOs and build a stronger finance community.

I have the data and information I need about our current workplace and people to navigate returning to the office post-COVID-19.

■ Yes ■ No

I know today which people and functions in our organization should return to the office first post-COVID-19.

■ Yes ■ No

Who in your organization will lead the decision on return-to-office protocols?

■ CEO ■ CFO ■ COO ■ Risk Management

After the stay-at-home orders are lifted and workforces begin the gradual return to an office environment, what change will be your organization's top workplace priority?

About the Program

The CFO Forum is a meeting place for CFOs to connect with their colleagues while gaining access to topical research and expert thinking from top business leaders. By utilizing a mix of high-profile speakers, panel discussions and engaging educational content, the CFO Forum enables its participants to gain a competitive advantage and to better meet today's complex business challenges.

The open forum offers ample opportunity for discussions and the exchange of best practices with fellow CFOs. High-level speakers not only provide participants insight into macro trends but strategic advice on how to successfully balance their numerous responsibilities and drive their company's objectives. Our partnership balances the broad expertise of a leading academic institution with the specialized knowledge of international business firms. Based in Atlanta, GA, the CFO Forum will expand into additional markets in 2020.
